

Prevention of Sexual Violence Among College Students: Current Challenges and Future Directions

25% of women and 5% of men experience sexual violence victimization on college campuses. Experts identify the need for more evidence-based interventions and longitudinal studies.

Experts reviewed the state of injury prevention science

A comprehensive prevention approach is needed

2018 U-M IPC Summit on the Prevention of Campus Sexual Assault

Change societal attitudes about what comprises sexual violence

Empower bystanders

Identify risk factors that change over time

Stop perpetration and hold perpetrators accountable

