U-M Injury Prevention Center Seeking Placement Opportunities for 2023 Summer Internship Program

The University of Michigan Injury Prevention Center will fund 5 intern positions next summer supporting work in injury prevention. The Center will recruit graduate and upper-level undergraduate students interested in injury prevention research or practice experiences in specific topic areas. The goal is to offer students an opportunity to gain mentored research and practice-based experience in the field of injury prevention. Internships are funded by the Injury Prevention Center with a student stipend of $5,700; positions should provide students an opportunity to work approximately 27-30 hours/week (a cumulative total of no less than 318 hours for the summer).

Note: Depending on current working environment and individual needs, internships may be in-person or hybrid.

Topic areas eligible for paid intern placement include the prevention of:

- Opioid Overdose
- Suicide
- Adverse Childhood Experience
- Concussion
- Motor vehicle crash
- Youth violence
- Sexual violence
- Older adult falls

We are actively seeking placement opportunities for intern applicants.

If your department/organization is interested in providing a learning opportunity, we'd like to hear from you. Please respond by submitting the request via Qualtrics link:
